

Honorary Medical Trainee

Location: Mildura Base Public Hospital, Victoria

Placement Type: Fixed Term (12 Weeks)

Classification: Honorary Medical Trainee (Unpaid Clinical Training Position)

About the Opportunity

We are seeking motivated International Medical Graduates (IMGs) to join our IMG Clinical Academy as Honorary Medical Trainees.

This structured 12-week clinical training program is designed to support IMGs preparing for supervised clinical practice. Participants will gain valuable exposure to the Australian healthcare system while developing the clinical, communication and professional skills required to practise safely and effectively within Australian hospitals.

This is an honorary (unpaid) education and training position and is not an employment opportunity.

Participants will work under the supervision of experienced clinicians in a supportive learning environment.

About the Program

The IMG Clinical Academy provides:

- Structured clinical orientation to the Australian healthcare system
- Supervised clinical placements across hospital departments
- Bedside teaching and case-based learning
- Exposure to multidisciplinary team environments
- Clinical skills development (i.e. aseptic technique, cannulation, catheterisation)
- Professional communication and documentation training
- Regular feedback and coaching
- Opportunities to build confidence for future supervised practice

Key Responsibilities

As an Honorary Medical Trainee, you will:

- Participate in supervised clinical activities appropriate to your level of training.
- Observe and assist with patient assessment and management under supervision.
- Attend ward rounds, outpatient clinics and educational sessions.
- Develop clinical reasoning and decision-making skills.
- Practise safe clinical documentation in accordance with hospital policies.
- Demonstrate professionalism, ethical practice and patient-centred care.
- Participate in feedback, assessment and reflective learning activities.
- Comply with all organisational policies relating to patient safety, confidentiality and infection prevention.

About You

To be successful you will have:

- A primary medical qualification recognised by the Australian Medical Council (AMC).
- Eligibility to work or train in Australia.
- Successfully completed AMC Part One (CAT MCQ).
- Be eligible for limited or provisional registration with AHPRA.
- Demonstrated commitment to pursuing medical practice in Australia.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- A commitment to professional development and continuous learning.
- Ability to work collaboratively within multidisciplinary healthcare teams.

Desirable:

- Have practiced medicine for a minimum of two years; either in Australia or overseas.
- Previous recent clinical experience within the last three years.
- Residing in the Mildura region.

What We Offer

- Structured educational program delivered by experienced clinicians.
- Supportive learning environment.
- Individual supervision and mentoring.
- Exposure to Australian clinical practice.
- Opportunities to strengthen readiness for supervised practice.
- Certificate of Completion (subject to satisfactory participation).
- Personal learning portfolio including direct observation of procedural skills, mini clinical examinations and logbook.

Important Information

This is an honorary, unpaid training position provided for educational purposes. Participation does not constitute employment with the health service and does not guarantee future employment or entry into a Workplace-Based Assessment program.

Fees

AUD10,000 + GST.

Successful applicants will be required to be based in Mildura for the 12-week period. Accommodation options can be discussed.

How to Apply:

All applications must be lodged online following this two-step process:

- 1) Clicking on the 'Apply Now' button to complete the application form
